What is the “Post-2015 Agenda” ?

- 2015 refers to the year that the current Millennium Development Goals (MDGs) will expire;
- Aims to be an agenda that builds on the strengths of the MDGs, but also addresses their shortfalls, “the unfinished agenda” and neglected issues;
- Process should be more inclusive of various stakeholders (Civil Society, Government, UN, Private Sector, Academia, Citizens);
- Various processes leading to 2015 (e.g. Open Working Group on SDGs, UN Task Team, High Level Panel, “Global Conversation”) that needs to be integrated.

The Global Thematic Consultation on Water

Facilitated by UN-Water and co-led by UNICEF and UN-DESA. Co-hosted by the Netherlands, Switzerland, Liberia and Jordan

The consultation is divided into a global dialogue on the big water (ongoing) and specific thematic discussions in three streams on WASH, Waste Water and Water Resources respectively

Outcomes will be discussed at a high level meeting 21-22 of March and a final report including diversity of discussion and policy recommendations be submitted to the HLP and the MDG summit during the 68th General Assembly
